

May 2014

Dear :

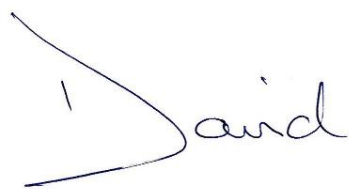

Here's a recap of blog posts and other news from the past month.

I will be speaking at HowTheLightGetsIn, the world's largest philosophy and music festival, on May 25, 2014, joining Richard Bentall and Dinesh Bhugra to debate the nature of mental illness, speak on the persecution of heretics in science, and debate doctors' monopoly on prescription. I hope to see some of you there!

You may wish to join me in signing the Markingson petition asking for an investigation of research in the Department of Psychiatry at the University of Minnesota. This case is a stunning example of what has gone wrong in psychiatric research.

Thank you for your support.

Your feedback, as always, is greatly appreciated.

Written on Water

This is a brief synopsis of Dear Luise by Dorrit Cato Christensen - a story of power and powerlessness, and a most extraordinary book. Extraordinary because of the horror it outlines. Extraordinary because of Dorrit's restraint when writing about her daughter. Do things ... [Read More...]....»

Eastern Health Meets Western Industry

It's common to find those behind Global Mental Health say that they might not originally have believed in the reality of mental illness and the efficacy of treatment but they do now. This and two following position pieces don't come from the same conversion perspective. I have always believed in [...]....»
